

HYPOTHESIS / PROOF: FOR THE AWARD OF HOPFERWIESER CO2 €100,000

The legally flawless and scientifically unquestionable one Evidence, as already generally understood in a written statement in advance sent by registered mail, assumes a coherent and consistent hypothesis that meets the requirements of the tender Context can easily be explained completely without any contradictions.

Whenever there is additional CO2 in a gas mixture, it is also caused by the combustion of fossil fuels, then the absorption of Thermal radiation warms the gas mixture, which is comparable to that atmosphere of a planet can also be referred to as global warming.
If this happens uncontrolled without consideration for the sensitive
It causes the ecological balance of a planet such as Earth lasting damage to the entire ecological system of our planet Earth!

/// AND / OR — BUT \ ALSO ///

Whenever hominid life forms, mostly on two legs, appear in large numbers and completely unabashedly use fossil energies during their development within the framework of a somewhat stupid growth ideology since the beginning of a so-called industrial revolution, i.e. after 1750 until today, burn and far too many gigatons of CO2 in an ecological system called Earth are released, then this development causes global warming, which these mostly wildly chattering two-legged friends, other roommates, and my beloved Flossler, and of course also the earth which then causes lasting damage!

Prerequisite for this development of an objectively currently observable Global warming and, of course, the associated lasting damage to Human, animal, biosphere, and earth [~ GAIA] during a just on this planet evolutionary experiment, which of course can be terminated at any time can be repeated a few hundred million years, it is natural that in this so-called "fossil energy combustion and CO2 release" Process" at the same time other greenhouse gases and other directly or indirectly Ecosystem-damaging pollutants are released and / or thereby in direct Related to this so-called "Fossil Energy Combustion and and CO2 release process" other chemical gases / or petrochemical Products in addition to mass Garbage and other waste materials in an industrial production process and then at the same time serious impairment of the planetary CO2 – Household, for example through large-scale deforestation and / or other factors, happens and very essential In addition, the CO2 exchange within the ecosystem is also serious is adversely affected. Then something like that can happen. Shit happens !

This hypothesis thus demonstrates the clear causal relationship that a causally caused man-made global warming was caused. In addition to lasting damage to people and the planet Earth!
